What could happen when the iconic Hamburg band The NØ takes up the musical legacy of their predecessors No Life Lost with their rough ska-punk songs about things like football, partying, alcohol and more?

Exactly: you show what else you've got and write a contemplative reggae ballad with great bluesy minor harmonies about the small and larger adversities that spoil our enjoyment of life every day.

This time, however, the title 'Das Leben ist schön' (Life is beautiful) is not meant ironically, but encourages us to take it easy and see things a little more positively. A real earworm that gives you courage and gets you excited about their first LP, UNERHØRT, which will be released in March 2026. The single is also available in a strictly limited edition as a 7-inch vinyl and comes with a very cool version of the soul classic 7 Days Too Long on the B-side.
